Our Story

With a big Thank You to the support from all our customers around the world

Based in the UK, we're Natalie and Paul Sun, and our passion for art and design led us to set up Gingko Design in 2011, the same year we were married (yes, we know, a very busy year).

We believe that good design should be simple but elegant, sustainable but unique, functional but also long lasting - This philosophy has inspired us to create our innovative and stylish designs that have won a number of international awards. We have now become a leader in the premium & creative design-led home and gift sector in the UK.

Using the latest technology and a fresh, modern approach, we bring elegance and practicality together in a seamless and sustainable way, enabling us to create lighting, accessories and timepieces that will bring something truly special to your home.

So why Gingko? We get asked this a lot! The ginkgo biloba tree is one of the oldest in the world, beautiful when the leaves turn golden in autumn, and used for making herbal recipes and teas for hundreds of years. When we set up our company, we wanted to design and craft products that echoed these qualities; longevity, beauty and a practical use.
